

Connectivity Solutions

Redundancy & Diversity

Relying on a single carrier for your connectivity puts your business at risk of grinding to a halt if that carrier experiences an outage.

Redundancy gives you a back-up connection. If your primary line experiences an outage, your secondary line can ensure business continuity.

Diversity ensures the back-up connection uses a different carrier—and ideally a different route to your building—providing a further safeguard to secure critical business continuity.

Can your business afford an internet outage?

In today's work environment, productivity is entirely dependent on your ability to connect to the network and to the cloud. If your access goes down, so does your revenue. Have you calculated the hourly cost of a connectivity outage?

DES is partnered with national carriers, including Verizon, Comcast, Cogent, Crown Castle and many others, to give you highly competitive rates for communications connectivity.

We show you which connectivity providers service your premises and which would be relatively simple to extend to your location. We evaluate which carriers meet your needs in terms of performance, cost, and resilience for your primary or secondary connectivity requirements.
